• VIDEO PRODUCTION

Video – there’s nothing quite like it to bring your message to life.

We are skilled in the technical and creative arts of production. We also bring deep experience to the design and execution of effective business communications. That’s what it takes to make good corporate video.

Training	Employee Orientation
Product Demonstration	Recruiting
Corporate Image	Meeting Modules
Trade Shows	Fundraising

We are equipped for studio and location shooting. Our post-production capabilities include:

Two Edit Bays	Motion Graphics/Animation
Sound Recording Booth	Video Compression for Web, CD-ROM and DVD Applications
Extensive Music Library	Duplication of CD-ROM, DVD

• INTERACTIVE

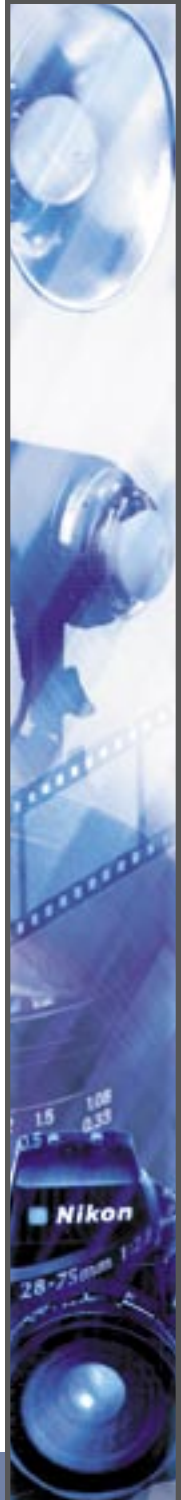

Interactive media delivered on CD or DVD enables your audience to browse and react; to actively acquire information at their own pace.

Its unique strength is the seamless mix of audio, video, photography and written material into a cohesive communications tool. Interactive media is especially effective for applications such as:

- Product Information
- Training
- Recruiting
- Employee Orientation

We bring skill in all media disciplines to the design, production and programming of interactive CDs and DVDs.

PHOTOGRAPHY

We take great photographs – beautifully composed, properly lit and executed with the kind of professional skill and creativity that comes from years of experience.

Whether it's a product that's photographed in our studio or an action shot taken on location, we have the know-how and artistic flair to get it "just right."

Rely on Media Dimensions to shoot:

- Product Photography
- Landscapes
- Events/Public Relations
- Portraits
- People at Work
- Architectural/Construction

We also offer digital art/"airbrushing" services for photo manipulation.

• WEB DESIGN

Your website is the electronic portal that gives the world a look at your company and its products. The perceptions of visitors to your website can have an enormous impact on your business.

We strongly believe that every website must pass this fundamental test:

- Is it well conceived?
- Has it been carefully planned?
- Is the visual design appealing?
- Does the site "invite you in"?
- It is easy to navigate?

You can be certain that every site we design meets these criteria.

Whether it's your first website or re-design of an existing site, Media Dimensions offers design-through-implementation services.

And...with our video production expertise, we can also assist in creating Webmercials and video modules for the web.

EVENTS/STAGING

When it's showtime, you only have one chance to get it right. Be sure you work with a support team that knows how to stage great presentations and special events. We've been in the staging business since 1984, so we know a thing or two about how it's done.

We know the importance of proper planning and attention to detail, of using only high quality audiovisual equipment, of putting together the best stage crew and show producers.

We also create visual elements to enhance your event, such as PowerPoint slides, video modules and animated openers and closers.

With Media Dimensions, you can be certain your show is in good hands.

We specialize in:

- Sales Meetings
- Business Conferences
- Business Awards Events

• TRAINING

- SAFETY PROCEDURES
- PRODUCT KNOWLEDGE
- EQUIPMENT REPAIR
- USING SOFTWARE
- USING EQUIPMENT
- ASSEMBLY PROCEDURES
- SALES TRAINING
- ETHICAL CONDUCT TRAINING
- EMPLOYEE ORIENTATION

Training is fundamental for every organization. Employees need to know how to use equipment and software, how to interact with customers, how to conduct themselves within corporate guidelines. Customers need to know how to use the products and services they buy. Professionals need to learn new skills and sharpen old skills in order to advance their careers.

The need for training has never been more vital as our world becomes more complex, as government regulations become more strict, as public scrutiny holds business to ever higher standards of conduct.

At Media Dimensions, we collaborate with our clients to create customized multimedia training materials. Some projects involve videotaping a training session, then editing the material, adding graphics and preparing it for distribution. Other projects can be more complex and require our full script-to-screen production services. This can include professional talent such as on-camera narrators and actors for role-play scenarios. We also produce interactive training materials that combine computer screen captures, narrative, PDF files, live video and PowerPoint.

Regardless of its nature, we can format your training for delivery via DVD, CD-ROM, Podcast or the Web.
